Hunting, Farm Mishaps Bring Arm Injuries

Edwin Haling Shot by Dropped Gun; Hughes Cut by Binder

A charge of shot from a 20-gauge gun which he accidentally dropped while hunting Sunday morning severely injured the right shoulder and upper arm of Edwin Haling, nine-year-old son of Charles Haling, Grass Lake.

Edwin was removed to Victory Memorial hospital, where Dr. A. L. Myers ascertained that the shot pellets had apparently not damaged the bones, although they had torn the muscles.

Edwin and his father, who is operator of Haling's resort and known as an expert shot, were hunting on the lake when the accident occurred.

Alec Hughes Recovering
A. G. ("Alec") Hughes, Deep Lake road, is recovering from injuries suffered recently at his farm, when his right arm was badly lacerated in a corn binder he was attempting to clear.

Fifty-one stitches were required to close the wound, which extended from the thumb across the top of the forearm to the elbow.

Hughes drove his own car to Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan, where he was given surgical aid and penicillin treatments.

The accident occurred at 5:45 p. m. Hughes had believed the binder to be out of gear and was endeavoring to clear away corn stalks that had lodged in it, when the machine started to operate again.

He is survived by his wife, Violet, a brother, Alton E. Britton, Fox Lake; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Thatcher of Seattle, Wash., and by his mother, Mrs. Mary Rudolph, 99, of Seattle.

Illustrated Talks on "Charm" Presented for Two Women's Groups

"You are your own most important asset," was the general theme of the program presented by Miss Ann Leddy and Miss Shirley Molohon of the Patricia Stevens charm school for the Antioch Woman's club Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. B. Grice, and in the Antioch Grade school Monday evening for the Business and Professional Women's club.

Slides with Vitaphone accompaniment illustrating the importance of posture, makeup, suitable hair styling and careful choice of clothes in a person's appearance were shown by Miss Leddy, with Miss Molohon assisting.

The value of a pleasant speaking voice was also emphasized, and attention was called to the value of good diction and correct grammar in maintaining a favorable impression.

Charm and a pleasing appearance may be of value to the business woman in her career, and to the housewife in her social contacts as well as to the model or actress, it was pointed out. Beauty training may be helpful to the high school girl or the older woman—there are no "age limits" to its value—the speakers declared.

Forty were present at the Woman's club meeting, at which "Guest Day" was observed. Members of the hostess committee with Mrs. Grice were Mmes. T. R. Birkhead, Claire Dunbar, Elmo Edwards, Paul Ferris and H. H. Grim.

Mrs. L. V. Madden, program chairman, was called upon by Mrs. A. H. Kaufman, president, to introduce Miss Leddy and Miss Molohon.

The meeting of the business club was also opened to those interested, with a special invitation to girls of high school age.

The speakers were introduced by Mrs. H. B. Gaston, program chairman, who in turn was presented by Miss Charlene Jorgensen, president.

The next meeting of the Business club will feature a pot luck Christmas dinner and a style show by Marie-Anne's in the Grade school.

Suggestions for Improvements in Village Outlined

Lions, Legion and V.F.W. Delegates Attend Council Meeting

Improved night police protection for Antioch, supplementary north-and-south streets to facilitate unloading at the rear of local stores and to take some of the traffic load off Main street, and a reassessment of local property in order to bring up the level of taxation on vacant property within the village limits—these were some of the projects urged by delegations from the Antioch Lions club, Antioch Legion post and Lake Region Veterans of Foreign Wars post at a meeting of the Antioch village council Tuesday evening.

"It is ridiculous to have property within half a block of Main street valued at more than $20,000.00 for sale purposes—and paying taxes of $18.00 or less per year," declared Krueger. "I venture to say that if taxes in the village were reassessed, so that this vacant property was taxed on a municipal basis, and not as though it were farm land lying outside the village limits, the village's revenue would be increased by more than 50 percent, and we would have funds for carrying out some of our needed improvements."

"These owners, also, would be more anxious to either improve their land or to dispose of it to others who would make use of it for either business or residential purposes," he said.

Housing Shortage Mentioned

Antioch, like many other communities throughout the nation, faces a housing shortage that promises to become worse rather than better with the return and marriage of many servicemen, Dr. L. J. Zimmerman, head of the V. F. W., and Dr. G. W. Jensen, spokesman for the Legion, pointed out.

Dr. Zimmerman urged that a committee be appointed from the village board to meet with the committees from the three organizations to work out more definite plans that could be taken up at a meeting of the council in the near future.

The opening of additional streets in the business district to relieve the congestion on Main street was especially urged by Dr. Jensen.

Policeman to be Hired

Assurance that an additional policeman, with automobile, is to be hired for night duty in Antioch "as soon as a suitable man can be secured and arrangements made" was given by Village President George B. Bartlett.

"We had hoped to do this before the war," Bartlett stated, "but due to one circumstance and another, have not been able to so far, although we feel that the end of the war has removed most of those obstacles."

The reassessment of the village property was approved by Village Attorney George S. McLaughlin, who was present at the meeting. Attorney McLaughlin corroborated Krueger's prophecy of a resultant increase in village revenue, saying, "I have known of a number of other townships that have done this—with resultant benefits."

"One of the difficulties we have to contend with in regard to the financial operation of villages is the fact that taxes are assessed by the township, while the percentage that the village can levy is limited by the state," McLaughlin observed.

The opening of additional streets and subdivisions would be to the benefit of the village, the council (Continued on page 5)

Self-Perpetuating Bureaus

You no doubt have heard that old chestnut about the government clerk in Washington who asked her boss if she could throw away a batch of old papers and was told, "Sure, but make two copies of each one first."

We're just beginning to wonder if some of these widely advertised economy plans of the government's are going to turn out the same way.

The other day we heard that over 3,000 persons were being released from a government bureau.

But—and here's the pay-off!—they were immediately re-hired by a brand new outfit—a Civilian Production board.

Now, we're merely a citizen and taxpayer—one of those useful but obscure personages whose main function in the government of the nation seems to be helping in a small way to pay the bills.

However, in our crude way, we would like to comment that what we are looking for in the way of economy in government spending is the real McCoy, and not a run-around.

We fail to see where transferring personnel from one government bureau to another is going to cut down expenses in the aggregate.

And while some changes in the governmental set-up may be necessary, it seems to us that revision should be downward, and not lateral.

It begins to look to us as though some of these self-perpetuating bureaus are going to be real post-war problems.

That Changeable "A" Note

We've heard of people sounding a new note in world affairs, but according to a recent item in that newspaperman's newspaper, the Christian Science Monitor, France has come up with an objection to noting a new sound in an old note—an "a" note, to be exact.

So far as our comparatively limited musical studies have been concerned, an "a" note was always just that, take it or leave it. But now we learn how wrong we were.

The article from which we scooped up our information—or rather, which dumped the information over our indifferent head—reads, in part, as follows:

France is going to demand international stabilization of the musical note "a" to stop the inflation of the note by foreign musicians, particularly those in the United States, Great Britain, and Russia.

The French say the number of vibrations of the "a" note, set at 870 a second at an international convention in Vienna in 1885, has been climbing steadily in the concert halls of various countries until there are now places where the note has been inflated to as much as 912 vibrations.

The French Office of Art and Creation is demanding that an international commission be formed to get everybody together at 880 vibrations.

The French proposals that international co-operation be extended to "deflating the 'a'" met varying responses among several of Boston's prominent musicians.

Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, stated the outstanding advantage of a high pitch is that it gives great brilliance to the music performed. He said his organization intended to keep to its accustomed pitch of 444 or as it would be in the French system of reckoning, 888.

The ears of his orchestra's audiences have become used to this pitch, he said, and he saw no advantage in changing their listening habits. Besides, if pitches were standardized, it would mean a wholesale adjustment in the woodwind section of numerous orchestras, including the Boston Symphony, for most of the instruments have been adjusted for the higher pitch. He added that pitches can never be stabilized since climates in different countries affect the pitch.

Walter H. Piston, Jr., composer and teacher at Harvard, commented that the pitch has been slowly rising for many years due to an increased appreciation of brilliance of tone. The fact is, he said, that it has risen so much since Beethoven's day that his music is now being heard a full half-tone higher than the keys in which it was written.

The standard pitch accepted in France for treble A, Mr. Piston pointed out, has been 435 for many years, while the Boston Symphony instruments are tuned to 444. (The treble A is a note ordinarily taken an octave higher, which is apparently spoken of in the Paris dispatch.)

It certainly would be an advantage in the case of instruments such as the xylophone, which cannot be tuned to different pitches, if a standard could be adopted all over the world, said Mr. Piston. He expressed a little surprise that the lead should be taken by a French group at this particular moment, when France appears to be facing a number of more serious problems.

Quincy Porter, violinist, composer and director of the New England Conservatory of Music, was one who agreed with the French that an international "a" would be advantageous. He pointed out a growing tendency on the part of orchestras and string quartets in the United States to pitch their instruments higher. This is distressing to many listeners used to the 440 rate, he said, who settle back comfortably to hear, for instance, Beethoven's Fifth Symphony in C Minor, and sit up with a start when the tones come pouring out closer to C sharp.

Boris Goldovsky, pianist and lecturer, protested that an international "a" is not something musicians impose by international accord, unless they "pass a law" and make violations of it punishable by a fine.

"Why standardize art?" asked Mr. Goldovsky in amazement. "Stabilizing the 'a' would be like making all painters use the same shades of green or red. Each musician has his own concept of artistry. He wouldn't be happy with a different 'a'. Since the Leningrad Orchestra and the London Philharmonic and the Boston Symphony do not play simultaneously, I don't see that anything is achieved in all having the same pitch."

Anyway, now we've finally found out why fiddle players and others have a little trouble once in a while trying to get together on pitch. It's just some subversive international influences getting in dirty work on the "a" note.

—Besides, this all makes a nice change from the usual postwar news, doesn't it?

News of the Boys . . .

It's nice to be missed, which First Lt. W. F. Jennrich assures us the News is when it doesn't arrive on schedule.

"Two weeks ago I joined the 42nd Infantry division, which is fulfilling occupational duties in Austria. My old outfit, the 66th, a Category IV division, is on its way to the States to be deactivated."

"Certainly have missed the home town paper the past three weeks. It is a great pleasure to keep up with all the local events through the News.

Would appreciate it greatly if you would continue to send the News to my new address."

PEACE...and quiet!

A lot of men who went off to fight for their country will never see their country again! They are the ones who were blinded.

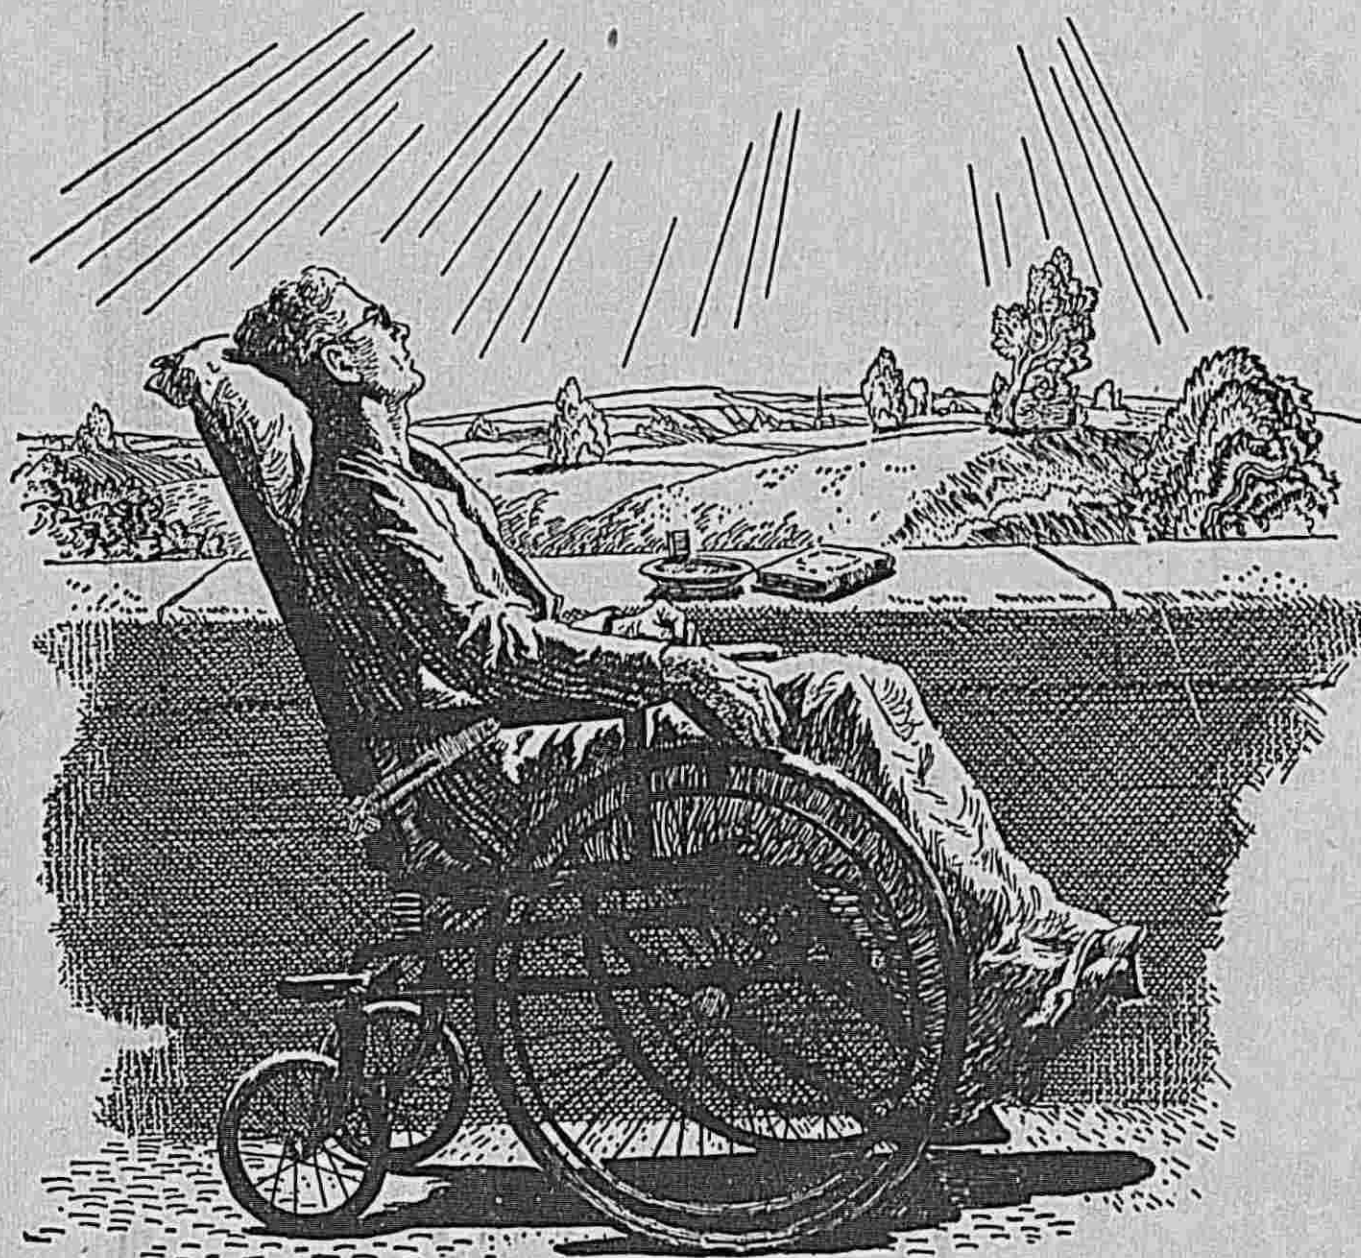

Some who went away, whistling and gay... will come back with shattered nerves that only expert care, and time, can mend.

And there'll be others without legs. Without arms. With broken bodies.

We can never repay these men for the sacrifices they made. But we can give them the best of medical attention. We can provide them with the best of care and pensions. And a certain measure of peace... and quiet.

They'll get the best that can be given. And even if you can't loan the money needed for their care, someone else, perhaps, will buy the Victory Bonds you might have bought.

But you'll feel better if you buy Victory Bonds yourself. And you'll demonstrate to yourself and others that your patriotism didn't end the day the war ended.

"Speed-Up" of Bond Purchases Requested

Antioch's purchases of bonds in the Victory drive are below the proportions which had been purchased in the previous campaigns at a similar stage. Township Chairman Otto S. Klass reports.

Pointing out that "in 10 years the government will give you $4.00 for every $3.00 you invest now," Klass asks full cooperation in putting the drive "over the top."

"If you bought one $18.75 bond a month, in 10 years the government will start to pay you a check a month, for $25.00, and if you bought a $37.50 bond a month, in 10 years, the government would send you a $50.00 check every month," Klass cites as an inducement.

"Isn't that a wonderful savings and at the same time lending the government money to take care of one of those grand boys of ours who is hospitalized?—So let's get busy and put this drive over. Don't let George do it."

Miss Vivian Larson, Chicago, was a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gaston, from Thursday evening to Saturday afternoon.

agreed, and some of the efforts that had been made in this direction in the past were discussed.

One of the difficulties now facing the village is that of obtaining the promised right-of-way over the Soo line tracks at either Ida avenue or Bishop street, President Bartlett said. He suggested that petitions from members of the three organizations might carry considerable weight in getting prompt action in securing easy access to 40 acres of land which the village owns on the east side of the tracks.

The desirability of opening this land was also strongly urged by Dr. Jensen.

Zoning Work to Continue

An appropriation of $100.00 to continue the work of zoning the village, which was begun last spring, was voted. George Wagner was appointed by Bartlett to take charge of this phase of the work, which will have to do with the making of maps and blue prints.

A permit was granted to the Hansen Furniture company of Fox Lake to glass-in the canopy of the former filling station on the Thayer lot adjoining the Antioch garage. The company will use the building as a display room for electrical appliances and as an office, and will not interfere in any way with the village's use of the property as a parking lot, it was explained.

A bar permit was granted to the new owners of the Antioch Recreation bowling alleys, Carl Gibson and Hubert Alt, and a motion was made to refund to Ed Nelson, former owner, the balance of his license fee for the present period.

An application from the Antioch Atlantic and Pacific Tea company store to sell beer and liquors by the case or bottle was referred to the licensing committee.

See Village Hall Sketches

Henry Bleck, former Waukegan city engineer, and Leonard Latz, consultant, who have been working on plans for some of Antioch's improvement projects, were present at the meeting and showed sketches of the long-proposed new Antioch village hall and fire station for discussion and suggestions on the part of council members.

Bleck is to prepare the applications necessary to receive whatever assistance may be received from the state under its recent appropriations to aid villages and cities in improvement projects. The maximum which Antioch can receive is about $1,300, it was explained.

Plans are also being drawn up for lighting improvements in the business section, and for sewer system improvements.

The meeting was recessed to Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, when applications for the position of night policeman will be received by the council.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES of the VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH

ing paddles mounted on a rugged sprocked chain operating on the four sides of the gutter and out of the way," says the company's advertising. "Goes around corners, scrapes both gutters clean, is easily installed in any barn, old or new."

William Nash, who is the president states that "several other farm implements will also be manufactured," and suggested a possibility that they might employ "as many as 30 people and perhaps more."

NOTICE

To All Motorists

Every motorist who values his right to drive should be familiar with the provisions of the new Illinois Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law which will become effective January 1, 1946.

This was emphasized today by S. Boyer Nelson of the Nelson Real Estate and Insurance agency.

The new law, he explained, provides that automobile owners and operators who become involved in accidents causing bodily injury or death, or causing more than $50 damage to the property of any one person must meet stringent requirements or face suspension of their drivers' licenses and automobile registration certificates.

These requirements are that such owners and operators shall have adequate and acceptable Automobile Liability Insurance or shall deposit with the Secretary of State security (up to $11,000 in cash, negotiable securities or other acceptable collateral) to cover the damages for which they may be held liable.

The easiest and simplest way for a motorist to meet the requirements of the law, said Mr. S. Nelson, is to have Automobile Liability Insurance. His policy, provided it is written by a company authorized to do business in Illinois, will be acceptable as security and the motorist will not, in the event of an accident, have to furnish other security. Furthermore, his policy will be acceptable proof of future financial responsibility.

In addition, concluded Mr. Nelson, an Automobile Liability Insurance policy will pay, up to the limits purchased, any final judgment which may be entered against the policyholder as the result of an automobile accident.

We haven't forgotten this boy... have you?

He hasn't forgotten.

We haven't forgotten, either, soldier.

Not you—or the hundreds of thousands of other veterans who have sweated and bled and given their hands, legs, eyes, minds—yes, and their lives—while we sat at home, cheering.

ON OCTOBER 29TH, the last—and the most important—Bond drive yet made in this war begins . . . the great Victory Loan.

Secretary of the Treasury Vinson has directed a message to every firm in this city—just as he did to us—asking for co-operation in this—your chance to express your thanks to the boys who won this war.

He is asking labor and management, working together, to contribute once more, as they have done so successfully in the past, to the achievement of E Bond goals.

The only way this can be accomplished is by accepting a definite quota—and then meeting it. Both the men and women on pay-rolls and the plants themselves should accept these quotas.

The great Victory Loan will help provide cash for many purposes.

It will help raise the money to get our boys home. It must raise the money to give them their mustering-out pay and veterans benefits—educational and all the rest.

It will help pay for war goods already used and take care of contract terminations.

Most important, it will do everything money can do to help patch up the broken bodies and lives of men like this.

For this is the loan with a heart. Of all loans in this war, it is the most human. It pays for healing instead of killing—mercy instead of pain.

Can any businessman look a Victory Bond salesman in the eye and say the Victory Loan is less important than the others—or that he cannot pledge his firm to meet the quota which the Treasury asks him to accept?

We think not. And so we here sign our names in pledge that we accept our quota and will do everything in our power to meet it.

We know we can count on other Americans to do the same.

LET'S ALL MEET OUR QUOTAS IN THE VICTORY LOAN

NOV. 21, 1945

AN IMPORTANT DATE FOR THOUSANDS OF ARMY VETERANS

NOW IN CIVILIAN LIFE

Between now and November 21, thousands of Army veterans will reenlist in Uncle Sam's new volunteer peacetime Army. Because—men who have been discharged between May 12 and November 1 of this year and reenlist on or before November 21 will be able to return to the Army with the same grade as they held when discharged.

Men with six months of satisfactory service discharged as privates will, on reenlistment before November 21, be given the grade of private first class.

Men now in the Army who apply for discharge after NOVEMBER 1 for the purpose of reenlisting in the Regular Army will also retain their present grades, if they enlist within 20 days after discharge and before FEBRUARY 1, 1946.

"BEST JOB IN THE WORLD"
These special privileges are typical of the new law recently passed by Congress. Few opportunities for a lifetime career offer as many attractive advantages.

Can you think of any other job that would give you good pay, your food, clothing, quarters, free medical and dental care, world-wide travel, 30 days furlough every year, education and training in any of nearly 200 skills or trades, and enable you to retire with a life income any time after 20 years' service?

There isn't any! That's why a job in the Regular Army has been called "The Best Job in the World."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NEW ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

1. Enlistments for 1 1/2, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men with 6 months' service.)

2. Men reenlisting retain their present grades, if they reenlist within 20 days after discharge and before Feb. 1, 1946. The same applies to men discharged between May 12 and Nov. 1, 1945, who reenlist before Nov. 21, 1945.

3. An increase in the reenlistment bonus to $50 for each year of active service since the bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.

4. 20% extra pay when overseas.

5. Paid furlough, up to 90 days, depending on length of service, with furlough travel paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who enlist.

6. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.

7. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—or three-quarters pay after 30 years. (Retirement income in grade of Master or First Sergeant up to $155.25 per month for life.) All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.

8. Benefits of GI Bill of Rights.

9. Family allowances for the term of enlistment for dependents of men who enlist or reenlist before July 1, 1946.

10. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater in Air, Ground or Service Forces on 3-year enlistments.
